REFERENCE: Attached Memorandum, dated 5 October 1954, same subject.

1. I went over this morning to see [REDACTED] to ask him to what degree he desired my participation in this study. He outlined to me his conclusions as to how we should proceed. They are as follows:

b. [REDACTED] then outlined the problem as needing a complete statements of its various aspects and conclusion in respect to it after each division chief had signed off in writing.

c. He then said he had planned to direct this new appointee to contact me and seek whatever assistance I could produce.

2. I told [REDACTED] that I liked his proposal very much, and would be happy to participate with his appointee.

3. I am sure that overseas experience and DD/P operational background are essential for anyone who proposes to study this question. A highly important feature is the matter of operational security. [REDACTED] appointee has both as well as, he says, a general overall good competence. Thus, the problem is laid on properly in my opinion. If you agree, I presume you will advise [REDACTED] or phone me and I will do it for you if desirable.
